Dept. of Labor, 2001 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)46870738 Subject: Employee-management relations in government -- United States. Excerpt: . . . U Y L L MARKET NDERSTANDING OUR OCAL ABOR Current and accurate information is important to managing your business. Through Americas Workforce Network you get the up-to-date labor market information you need to evaluate the labor markets from which you recruit and plan for your future workforce needs. Every state offers labor market information, population statistics and economic statistics that provide a profile of the labor markets and local economies in which you do business. You can periodically renew your understanding of the dynamics of your local labor mar-ket by visiting Web sites such as www.acinet.org/acinet/stsear.htm, www.lmi-net.org/state2.htm, or www.state.nd.us/jsnd/related3.htm. ACCESSING ECONOMIC AND OCCUPATIONAL INFORMATION Understanding the overall economic and occupational climate will assist you in planning for your workforce needs. Information, such as industry trends, unemployment rates and the Occupational Outlook Handbook, provides guidance in preparing workforce recruiting plans and human resources programs that will create incentives for workers to stay and grow with your company. The Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) is an independent national statistical agency that collects, processes, analyzes and disseminates essential statistical data to the American public, the U. S. Congress, other federal agencies, state and local governments, business and labor. The Bureau of Labor Statistics offers a comprehensive Web site (www.bls.gov) that you can access to find data and information such as: Employment and unemployment statistics Prices and living conditions Compensation and working conditions Productivity and technology Employment projections International programs Where to...
